

HEALTH CARE ITEMS

Cancer Awareness

The customer was looking for a striking gift to hand out to association members as part of a launch for their new values. Working with their logo colors a bright red marble paperweight was created with a unique play on the color fills to make a connection between the words on the piece.

New Product Launch

Our ability to replicate 3-D items goes beyond just the casting. This commemorative piece was given to mark the launch of a new medical production. The replication of the piece's shape was impressive, but the ability to hand-paint the detail of the device put the piece over the top.

Fund Raising & Contributions

Looking for a way to thank individuals and businesses for their time and contributions our graphic designers teamed up with the client to create a truly unique and wonderful gift. These personalized building blocks let the recipients know that their contributions are going toward a great cause and toward building better care facilities for a children's hospital.
